

June is here, and the end of the 4-H year is just a couple of weeks away. As the club year ends, it is important that we all say "thank you" to our wonderful club and project leaders, as well as our great PDC Chairs. They have been so generous, sharing their time, talents and knowledge with our 4-H Program. We want them to know how much they are appreciated! Thank you!!!

Additionally, as the club year ends, Club Officers should review their club's Plans & Goals for the 2007-08 year. What goals did you meet and which ones were not met? This will help your club plan for the coming year. And, your club will receive recognition for what you completed during the 2007-08 year!

Don't forget that club budgets for the New Year are due to the 4-H Office by June 25th! Clubs cannot disburse any funds after June 30th unless their budget for the 2008-09 year has been approved by the 4-H Office! Contact us if you have any questions.

During June, we will be conducting several Training Sessions for Club Officers and for New Volunteer Leaders. Be sure to check the calendar section for additional information about these and other opportunities!

It's not too late to apply for our Marine Science Resources Journalism Academy! This two-week program includes field trips, hands-on activities, and the opportunity to help write and develop a newspaper for kids! For additional information, contact Susan Gloeckler; Phone: (805) 662-6943, e-mail: sygloeckler@ucdavis.edu or you can check out the Marine Resources Journalism Academy listing on our on-line calendar at <http://ceventura.ucdavis.edu/>

Now is the time to start getting your entries ready for the Ventura County Fair! Gather together your finished projects, and check the Fair Entry Guide or their website for entry dates. Project leaders are encouraged to help members enter their work and showcase the great work our members have done during the past year!

We want to take this opportunity to let you know about the retirement of our County Director, Larry Yee at the end of this month. As you know, our County Director is responsible for our 4-H program, along with all the other programs in our Cooperative Extension Office. Larry is also the director of the Hansen Trust. Although he will be truly missed, we hope that he enjoys his retirement to the fullest!

At the same time of Larry's retirement, our Office Manager, Suzy Griggs and our IPM Advisor, Phil Phillips will also be retiring! It won't be the same in our office without them! They have both helped our 4-H staff, members, and leaders throughout their years with our office. To them, we also send our best wishes for a wonderful retirement!

The Summer Solstice event has been cancelled. The activities will be added to upcoming events this fall so watch for more information in upcoming issues of Clover Lines.

New Volunteer Leader Certification Orientation Schedule for 2008-2009 Club Year

Each scheduled session listed below will be held at the 4-H Office, 669 County Square Drive in Ventura.

6/7/08	Saturday	9 a.m. – noon
6/17/08	Tuesday	6 p.m. – 9 p.m.
7/23/08	Wednesday	6 p.m. – 9 p.m.

RSVPs are requested so we will be able to have sufficient handouts on hand for each session. Please RSVP to (805) 645-1470 or 645-1464 with name, club, and preferred date/time.

There will be a few more Certification Orientations scheduled for Aug./Sept. (dates & times TBA). These sessions will be the last scheduled orientations for the year. NO makeup sessions will be available in 2009.

- 3) Approval of fingerprints submitted via Live Scan to the Department of Justice
- 4) Receiving appointment by the County Director and a 4-H Leader Card from the 4-H Office.

Important: New Adult Volunteer applicants are required to pay for fingerprinting costs at the time of fingerprinting. The fee ranges from $10 - $35 depending on where the fingerprinting is done. A list of fingerprinting locations and fingerprinting forms are available at the 4-H Office. Upon completion of the certification process and appointment as a leader, the applicant will be reimbursed $10 for fingerprinting charges. Any amount over $10 will not be reimbursed.

Live Scan Fingerprinting – Note to Leaders:

We have had many inquiries from people who have submitted fingerprints at the request of other organizations as to whether they need to do it again for us. Please let your prospective leaders know that due to privacy/identity theft concerns no organization is able to share Live Scan results with another org., so yes, they do need to do it again for 4-H. We get this question a lot since many of our leaders are teachers, or in other positions that require clearance. No one shares this info. If the Chief of Police wanted to lead a 4-H project – he (or she!) would be required to submit fingerprints via Live Scan again for us. Sorry! We don't have any choice in this.

- Enrollment forms/applications for all new and returning members and leaders wishing to participate in Equine and Ventura County Fair Market Animal (includes poultry meat pen and rabbit meat pen) projects, must be in the 4-H Office no later than 5:00 p.m., November 1, 2008. This deadline will be extended to 5:00 p.m. on November 3, 2008 due to November 1 being a Saturday. Errors and omissions contained in applications submitted by the deadline are to be resolved by November 8, 2008 or the application will be treated as if it had not been turned in on time.

4-H Educational Materials

National Directory of 4-H Educational Materials is now available. This directory is a searchable, national database of 4-H educational materials currently available through the Cooperative Extension System.

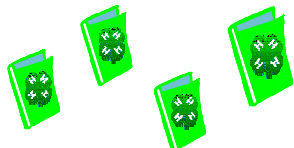

It will include National 4-H curriculum, state curriculum, supplementary materials and guides all created within the land grant university system and intended either for a youth audience or for adults working with youth. The directory is online and can be accessed at www.4-hdirectory.org.

2008 California State Fair Livestock Show

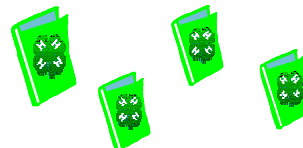

Californians entering market livestock in the Livestock Show at the 2008 California State Fair must register for the DNA Reservation and Collection online at www.bigfun.org.

The Fair requires DNA registration to verify ownership and prevent unlawful switching of animals before or during the competition. No market animal will be eligible for official entry unless this sample is obtained and an official Market Registration form has been completed by the deadline.

For additional information, visit: www.bigfun.org or contact the California State Fair Livestock Program Coordinator at 916-263-3109 or entryoffice@calexpo.com.

PRIMARY 4-H PROGRAM

What is the Primary 4-H Program? It is a 4-H program for youth 5 years old or in kindergarten by January 1 of the program year. It differs in many ways from the regular 4-H program.

- ☐ Primary members cannot enroll in large animal projects. However, they may enroll in small animal projects such as dogs, rabbits, cats, poultry, and cavy's.
- ☐ Primary members can enroll in other 4-H projects, but their participation should focus on skills practice and the process of doing things rather than the finished product.
- ☐ Primary members may participate in many events and 4-H activities. However, they may not participate in competitions where they or their entries are judged or placed. Their participation may be as exhibitors only. Primary members should only receive recognition for their participation. Fairs are open to primary members for exhibit only.
- ☐ Primary members may be encouraged to complete the Primary Member Personal Development Form with assistance from their leader, parents, or older members. Primary members do not accumulate credits on the Personal Development Report Form. Star rank reports and awards are not appropriate for primary members.

Additional Primary Program information can be received from the 4-H Office. Please contact 4-H staff if you have any questions about the Primary Member Program.

Be Heard: Calif Ag to Host Listening Sessions

Author: Rose Hayden-Smith

Agriculture impacts every California resident; everyone who lives in the state is a stakeholder in the industry that in so many ways, defines our state's character, and what our future holds. Now there is an opportunity for every resident to share their vision of California agriculture. The California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) invites every Californian to join CDFA Secretary A.G. Kawamura and members of the CDFA board at public listening sessions to "develop a more productive, competitive and innovative agricultural sector by 2030." Listening sessions will be held all over the state between May 29th and July 8th.

A session will be held in Ventura County, in Oxnard, on July 7th. Stakeholders (and that means YOU) are invited, in five minutes or less, to address four questions posed by the CDFA. To participate, you must RSVP to AgVision@cdfa.ca.gov and indicate whether you are listening or speaking. If speaking, you are asked to send an email summary of your comments, so that they may be accurately captured and included in the visioning process.

What I will be sharing with Secretary Kawamura and the CDFA Board is my vision: that the success of agriculture in California is of the utmost importance to our state, to the nation, and to the world, now and in the future. Agriculture must be sustained, and Californians of all ages and walks need to understand how important a successful and sustainable food system is to our individual and collective futures.

A key to sustaining and supporting agriculture is educating the public – and particularly youth – about its importance, how it works, what the issues are and likely will be. To accomplish this monumental task (and it is monumental: California has more than 6 million youth enrolled in its public schools, alone) will require a concerted effort of agricultural, educational, private organizations and individuals converging to offer a massive school-based and public education/outreach effort. Part of any educational and outreach effort should incorporate gardening.

Why gardening? Gardening provides an excellent way for youth to understand the basics of plant cultivation, and our food system. Research indicates that youth who garden tend to eat more fruits and vegetables, which has positive implications for public health AND for those that produce fruits and vegetables. Research also indicates that gardening programs in schools may lead to improved academic performance and greater achievement in science, things which benefit all of us. Gardening is agriculture writ small in physical terms, but agriculture writ large in our hearts.

California agriculture in 2030? Every Californian understands it, values it, and works to sustain the best aspects of it. Thousands of young people are entering the field with innovative ideas and energy, in part because they were introduced to agriculture and gardening during their public school education. Californians have a much lower incidence of preventable chronic diseases such as Type II diabetes, because our increased consumption of fruits and vegetables and physical activity is making all of us healthier. My "must have" for California agriculture? Universal food systems education that provides essential information about how agriculture in California works and which provides hands-on gardening experiences for every student in California public schools.

That's my vision. What's yours? Consider these four questions, contact the CDFA, and commit to being there.

- What is your vision for California agriculture by 2030?
- What will be the biggest challenge in achieving that vision?
- In 2030, how has public perception of agriculture changed?
- What is a "must have" in an Ag Vision for California?
